

Luke Plumb

Mandolin, Bazouki

LUKE IS A CLASSICALLY TRAINED MUSICIAN, FOLK MUSIC CALLED HIM AWAY...

“Luke Plumb...has returned to trailing clouds of glory...and enough imagination and Innovation to inspire a new generation of local folk musicians.”

Bruce Elder, Sydney Morning Herald, The Age

“Boldly goes where no other Australian music maker has been before...”

Tony Hillier, The Weekend Australian

Career highlights:

Through his work with Scottish band Shooglenifty, Ireland's eminent folk artist Andy Irvine and his many collaborations in Australia, Luke Plumb has established a reputation as a driving force in acoustic music on the global stage. He has played globally from the State Palace Kremlin, Russia to the Kennedy Centre, USA and every major Folk Festival in between, including Womad Singapore Borneo Rainforest World Music Festival, Glastonbury Festival, Cambridge Folk Festival and every major folk festival in the US, Australia, Canada and the UK.